

FIGURES FROM REPORT OF PROBATION OFFICER

Appreciation Is Expressed of Assistance Rendered by Police Department.

Amos A. Steele, probation officer of the District Supreme Court, has submitted to Chief Justice Covington his report for the fiscal year 1916. It shows that he has under him 202 probationers, of whom 191 are males and 11 females. The white offenders number 131 and the colored 71.

Mr. Steele reports that during the year 273 cases were referred to him by the court for investigation and report. Of these he was able to recommend only 163 for probation, of which 23 were non-support charges. Only 21 probationers were revoked during the year. Bench warrants were issued for 19 others thought to have violated the terms of their probation, but they have not been apprehended.

Appreciation of Police.

Mr. Steele expresses his appreciation of the aid of the police department. He says: "This office has received the aid and co-operation of the police department, which is so necessary if the best results are to be obtained under the probation law. The kindly advice or warning given a probationer by a police officer will in most cases be heeded and remembered."

Recent husbands convicted of non-support head the list of present probationers, as shown by the report, being 71 in number, of which 51 are white and 20 colored. Joy-riders ranked second, there being 21, of which 13 are white and 8 colored. Seventeen men and boys are on probation following conviction of housebreaking, of which 11 are white and 6 colored.

On Grand Larceny Charges.

Three women and 12 men are charged with grand larceny—11 white and 1 colored. Two women and 12 men are charged with petit larceny—13 of them white and 5 colored. For assaults, 8 men and 2 women are on probation, 2 white and 6 colored. Those charged with other offenses: Adultery, 5 men, 3 women—4 white, 4 colored; embezzlement, 7 males—2 white and 1 colored; robbery, 6 males—5 white and 1 colored; depredation, 6 males—2 white and 4 colored; forgery, 4 males, 1 woman—2 white and 3 colored; miscellaneous offenses, 18 males, 2 females—11 white and 9 colored.

FOR REGULATION IN D. C.

National Funeral Directors Favor Statute Covering Business Here.

Charles S. Zuerhorst and P. A. Taltavall, president and vice president of the District of Columbia Funeral Directors' Association, who were delegates to the National Funeral Directors' Association of the United States in convention at Columbus, Ohio, October 11-13, have returned to Washington. They have brought a report to the undertakers of the District of the unanimous adoption of a resolution introduced by Mr. Zuerhorst in favor of a law to regulate the practice of undertaking and embalming in the District. Such laws exist in all but two states and are proving highly efficient in aiding the work of the health departments.

A bill resulting from a mass meeting of all of the undertakers of the District of Columbia, which has been favorably passed upon by the Commissioners and the health officers, has been delayed in being introduced in Congress. The action of the national association promises, through the senators and representatives of the various states from which the delegates come, to aid in the passage of this bill when it is introduced in Congress and to aid in its speedy presentation.
